

Construction of Israeli Tray-Type Cable Trays

AI Overview

Cable tray systems in Israel are widely used for organized, safe, and durable cable management across industrial, commercial, and infrastructure projects, with a focus on compliance with local safety and building standards.

Overview of the Market

The Israeli cable tray market is a critical component of the country's construction and industrial infrastructure, driven by investments in technology, renewable energy, and commercial real estate. Demand is concentrated in major economic centers like Tel Aviv, Jerusalem, and Haifa, as well as industrial zones in the north and south. The market includes both domestic fabricators and international suppliers, with competition based on quality, technical compliance, and supply chain reliability. Key trends include data center construction, modernization of the power grid, and strict enforcement of electrical and fire safety codes (SI 1015) ().

Types of Cable Trays

Cable trays in Israel are available in several types to suit different applications:

- Ladder-type trays: Ideal for heavy-duty power cables and long spans.
- Perforated trays: Allow airflow to prevent overheating, commonly used in data centers and telecom installations.
- Solid-bottom trays: Provide full protection for sensitive cables from dust and environmental hazards.
- Wire mesh trays: Lightweight, flexible, and suitable for complex routing and retrofit projects ().

Materials and Construction

Cable trays are manufactured from durable materials to withstand harsh environments and heavy loads:

- Galvanized steel: Offers corrosion resistance and strength for indoor and outdoor use.
- Stainless steel: Used in corrosive or high-humidity environments.
- Fiberglass: Lightweight, non-conductive, and suitable for chemical or wet environments ().

Modern fabrication often uses automated roll-forming techniques, producing standard tray lengths of 3 meters, with modular desi...
