

Deviser optical power meter

Overview

Deviser AE270 optical power meters is perfect for qualifying applications using fiber optics in FTTx, CATV, PON, and long haul networks. These user-friendly instruments are capable of supporting up to 9 wavelengths, covering all ranges required for varied applications. They've been useful to characterize the performance of optical elements such as amplifiers, transmitters, receivers, and connectors. More details for AE290 Series can be seen below. Get product specifications, Download the Datasheet, Request a Quote and get. Deviser AE210 Optical Power Meter may be a fiber all-in-one power meter designed to perform fast, accurate, and dependable optical power dimensions in most type of fiber network this is certainly optic, also the Zhejiang TriBrer's product such as handheld power meter.
