

Honduran fiber optic KVM matrix manufacturer

AI Overview

There are currently no widely known fiber optic KVM matrix manufacturers based in Honduras; most solutions are supplied by international companies. Global Fiber Optic KVM Matrix Options Guntermann & Drunck (G&D) – Offers modular KVM matrix systems with fiber variants supporting 16 to 48 ports, suitable for control rooms and large IT infrastructures. Their systems allow long-distance signal transmission with KVM extenders and support flexible port configurations via Dynamic Port Technology. Adder Technology – Provides IP-based KVM matrix solutions with ultra-low latency and multi-platform support. Their ADDERView Matrix and ADDERLink XDIP products enable real-time control of multiple computers over fiber networks, ideal for broadcast, command centers, and enterprise environments. IHSE – German manufacturer specializing in modular KVM switches and extenders. Their fiber solutions allow secure, long-distance connections between operator workstations and remote computers, supporting analog and digital video, USB, and audio signals. Thinklogical (Belden Brand) – Offers TLX Matrix Switches for high-performance, end-to-end switching over single-mode or multi-mode fiber. These switches are protocol-agnostic, support 10Gbps per port, and are suitable for secure, multi-classification environments. Considerations for Sourcing in Honduras Local Distributors: While no Honduran manufacturers are listed, international suppliers often work with regional distributors or system integrators. Contacting authorized resellers in Central America may provide local support and installation services. Custom Integration: For specialized applications, local IT integrators can assemble KVM matrices using modular components from global manufacturers. Fiber Infrastructure: Ensure that the chosen system supports the fiber type (single-mode or multi-mode) and distance re...
