

Latest Ranking of Fireproof Cable Tray Prices and Brands

AI Overview

Fireproof cable trays are increasingly in demand, with top brands including Atkore International, Shandong Huahe, and Shenyang Sanfeng, priced competitively depending on material and specifications.

Market Overview The global fireproof cable tray market reached USD 2.41 billion in 2024 and is projected to grow at a CAGR of 7.2%, reaching approximately USD 4.57 billion by 2033. Growth is driven by stringent fire safety regulations, urbanization, industrialization, and the adoption of advanced cable management solutions in sectors like oil & gas, energy, and transportation. Asia Pacific is the fastest-growing region, followed by North America and Europe.

Top Brands and Manufacturers Key players in the fireproof cable tray market include:

- Atkore International – Offers stainless steel, galvanized, and custom cable trays with high durability and fire resistance.
- Shandong Huahe Cable Tray Co., Ltd. – Known for versatile 5-piece capacity trays suitable for mixed industrial applications.
- Shenyang Sanfeng Electric Co., Ltd. – Provides fast delivery (7–10 days) and industrial-grade cable trays.

Other notable brands – Include manufacturers offering fiberglass-reinforced polymer (FRP) trays, waterproof, and corrosion-resistant options. These brands are recognized for durability, compliance with IEC 61537, ASTM A123, or UL 1953 standards, and suitability for industrial, commercial, and data center applications.

Pricing Trends Pricing varies based on material, load capacity, fire rating, and customization:

- Galvanized steel trays – Typically range from $25 to $60 per meter, depending on thickness and load rating.
- Stainless steel trays – Higher-end, around $50 to $120 per meter, offering superior corrosion and fire resistance.
- FRP or fiber-reinforced trays – Usually $40 to $100 per meter, favored for high fireproofing and lightweight applications.
- Custom or modular systems – Prices can exceed $150...
