

Non-metallic optical cable wholesale manufacturer

AI Overview

ETK Kablo, AFL, Premier Cables, and Accio are key manufacturers offering non-metallic optical cables suitable for direct sales and industrial applications. Key Manufacturers and Products ETK Kablo produces non-metallic armored fiber optic cables reinforced with aramid or glass yarn, providing tensile strength, crush resistance, and rodent protection without conductivity. Their cables are suitable for direct burial, duct systems, and aerial ADSS installations, and comply with IEC 60794, ITU-T G.652/G.657, and EN 50173 standards, ensuring global compatibility and reliable optical performance under harsh conditions. AFL offers ADSS (All-Dielectric Self-Supporting) fiber optic cables, which are non-metallic and designed for overhead installations along power distribution or transmission lines. These cables use aramid yarn for strength and elongation, supporting their own weight without lashing wires, making them ideal for live-line environments. Premier Cables manufactures specialized non-metallic direct-buried cables with loose tube construction, water-blocking layers, and glass roving armoring. Their cables are suitable for outdoor and indoor duct applications, providing durability and protection against environmental stressors. Accio supplies customizable non-metallic armored optic cables reinforced with aramid yarn or composite FRP rods. These cables are designed for high-speed data transmission, industrial automation, and areas with high electromagnetic interference, such as power plants and railway systems.

Applications and Advantages

- Electrical Safety: Fully dielectric design prevents lightning-induced damage and allows safe operation near live conductors.
- Durability: UV-stabilized PE jackets, rodent resistance, and crush protection ensure long service life.
- Flexibility: Lightweight and easy to handle compared to metallic armored cables.
- Industrial and...
