

Ranking of Tuvalu Steel Cable Management Companies

AI Overview

Tuvalu's steel cable management sector is emerging, with key players including Tuvalu Telecommunications Corporation, SubCom, and international suppliers like EMC-direct and Emit Metal contributing to cable infrastructure and management solutions.

Key Companies and Providers

- 1. Tuvalu Telecommunications Corporation (TTC) TTC is the primary local entity responsible for cable infrastructure in Tuvalu, including the development of the Tuvalu Vaka Cable, the first international telecommunications cable connecting Funafuti to the broader Pacific network. TTC collaborates with global partners for supply and installation, ensuring modern cable management and fiber deployment standards are met.
- 2. SubCom SubCom is a leading international supplier of subsea cable systems and was contracted to supply the Tuvalu Vaka Cable. They provide advanced cable management solutions, including steel cable trays, fiber protection, and installation expertise for undersea and terrestrial cable systems.
- 3. EMC-direct EMC-direct specializes in professional cable protection and intelligent cable management systems. Their offerings include cable trays, entry components, cord grips, and strain relief solutions suitable for industrial and infrastructure projects in Tuvalu.
- 4. Emit Metal Emit Metal, based in Turkey, is a manufacturer of metal cable trays, ladders, and trunking systems. With a production capacity exceeding 1,000 tons per month, they supply durable steel cable management solutions that can be deployed in Tuvalu's infrastructure projects.
- 5. E-Tech Components E-Tech Components distributes power cable accessories and electrical components from leading brands. They provide high-quality cable management products, including corrosion-resistant steel trays and connectors, supporting both local and regional projects.
